DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-10, drawn to a method for curing one or more coatings on an automotive body, classified in class 427, subclass 496.
 - II. Claims 11-20, drawn to a method for curing one or more coatings on an automotive body, classified in class 427, subclass 496.
 - III. Claims 21-23, drawn to a method for curing one or more coatings on an object, classified in class 427, subclass 496.
 - IV. Claims 24-26, drawn to a facility, classified in class 118, subclass 620+.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and IV are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case, the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process: (a) a process of curing an X-ray curable coating with X-rays; and (b) a process of X-raying a component to assess/evaluate its structure.
3. Inventions II and IV are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case, the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process: (a) a process of curing an electron beam curable coating with an electron beam; and (b) a process of X-raying a component to assess/evaluate its structure.

4. Inventions III and IV are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case, the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process: a process of X-raying a component to assess/evaluate its structure.

5. Inventions I, II, and III, are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are not disclosed as useable together and have different modes of operation and functions. Invention I cures an electron beam-curable coating utilizing an electron beam while Invention II cures an X-ray curable coating utilizing an X-ray. Invention III requires an sheet substrate that is curved, bent, or folded, while Inventions I and II do not. Further, Invention III requires penetration of the electron beam or X-ray through multiple layers of coating to cure areas of coating outside the line of sight, while Inventions I and II do not.

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1762

7. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group IV is not required for Groups I, II, or III, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

8. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

9. A telephone call was made to W. Robinson H. Clark (Reg. No. 41,530) on 12/17/2004 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

10. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
